WCYS

Washington Center for Yemeni Studies

Monthly Newsletter

JUNE 2022

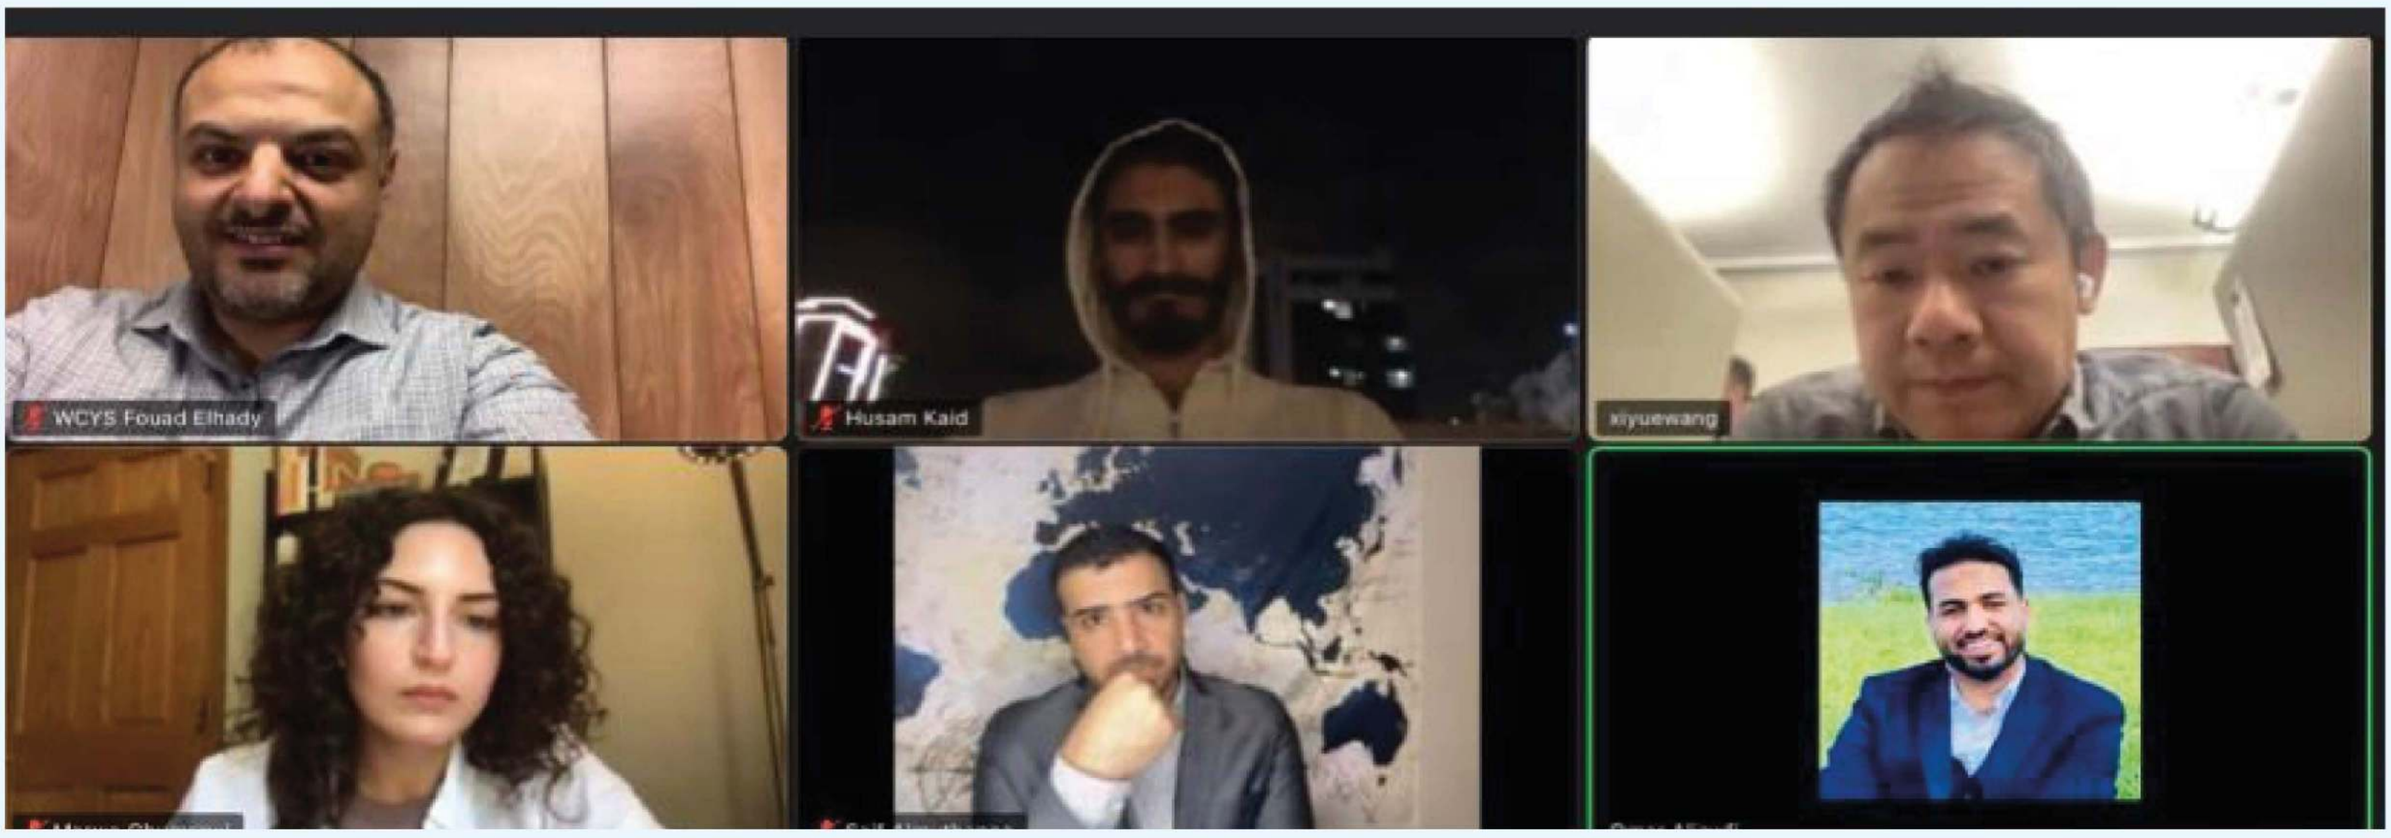
WCYS

www.wcys.org @WCYSUS Facebook.com/WCYSUS

WCYS
Washington Center for Yemeni Studies

Monthly Newsletter
JUNE 2022

Washington Center for Yemeni Studies Meeting with the Offices of Members at Republican Study Committee



The Washington Center for Yemeni Studies team met with the Offices of members at Republican study committee. We discussed opening lines of communication and opportunities for collaboration between our teams and how the center can be part of any upcoming efforts and consultations. We presented one of our center's published pieces, "Towards a Sustainable Peace in Yemen," which summarizes the outcomes of an extensive workshop organized by WCYS in collaboration with Yemeni experts and researchers from various centers and NGOs to pave a pathway to peace in Yemen. Most importantly, we discussed the information most critical to the current work of the Envoys, which the center could allocate its resources toward research on said topics

WCYS

Washington Center for Yemeni Studies

Meeting with Yemeni Ambassidor

The Washington Center for Yemeni Studies team met with HE Mohamed Al-Hadhrami, Yemen Embassy D.C. We discussed opening lines of communication and opportunities for collaboration between our teams and how the center can be part of any upcoming efforts

WCYS TV Appearances

The Washington Center For Yemeni Studies participation in commenting the recent event in Yemen on Aljazeera TV , TRT and Alsharq news represented the center's director of public relations /Saif Almuthanna

WCYS

Washington Center for Yemeni Studies

HOUTHI 'INTRANSIGENCE' OVER ENDING TAIZ SIEGE UNDERMINING UN-BROKERED TRUCE, SAYS YEMENI FOREIGN MINISTER

The Houthis' violations of the UN-brokered truce in Yemen and their reluctance to lift their siege on Taiz city undermined efforts to end the war and extend the truce, Yemen's foreign minister said on Monday.

Click to read more

UN SAYS YEMEN'S WARRING PARTIES AGREE TO RENEW TRUCE

The United Nations said Thursday that Yemen's warring parties have agreed to renew a nationwide truce for another two months. The development offered a glimmer of hope for the country, plagued by eight years of civil war — though significant obstacles remain to lasting peace.

Click to read more

IN YEMEN, CHILD SOLDIERING CONTINUES DESPITE HOUTHI PROMISE

Yemen's Houthi rebels are still recruiting children into their military ranks to fight in the country's grinding civil war, despite an agreement with the United Nations in April to halt the practice, Houthi officials, aid workers and residents told The Associated Press.

Click to read more

YEMEN'S TICKING OIL BOMB THREATENS THE WORLD ECONOMY

Most of the limited international diplomatic energy devoted to ending the civil war in Yemen understandably goes to preventing the loss of lives, whether from bloodshed or famine. But now that a two-month truce between the belligerents has been extended,

Click to read more